

A homework-style problem by Moni

Suppose your input is a graph and the task is to protect the privacy of edges - that is whether an edge exists or not is secret. Show a differential private algorithm at the edge level for outputting a node with close to maximum degree. How close an approximation can you get?